APPOMATTOX HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Barbara Ann Johnson, Reporter

Hold your hats, good people, because we are about to bring you some of the happenings at our good old high school, A. H. S.

Well, some of our girls are working extra hard to put on a good act at the Lions Club presentation, "Going Places." Some of the Junior girls are doing a dance routine you in the hall you will expect to see in the show and some of the other girls also have various parts. This 1952 class ring. They really seem pleased. It arrived January 25 and proud of them.

26 in the auditorium. The Seniors seemed pretty excited about getting their state tests back. They must have done "ok" because I see no change of faces here. Let us hope they did, anyway.

There will be two basketball games next week at Concord. The boys and girls play Altavista Tuesday night, January 23, and Pamplin High on Thursday, January 26.

The Dramatic Club met Wednesday and are deciding upon three one-act plays to produce later in the year. We wish them success in this undertaking.

Have you heard that all of the pages in the annual are about ready to go in. We wish to congratulate the members of the staff on the fine work they have been doing. If you haven't bought your annual do so now because the time is running out.

I know all of the students are glad to hear that we got out of school at 1:55 Thursday. The teachers are having a meeting in the county at this time.

The Jolly Teen-Agers' are having a square dance in the cafeteria this Friday night. They hope to have a large crowd.

That's all this week, so until next week remember: don't put o. something until tomorrow you can do today. It doesn't pay.

On Wednesday night, January 24, the Monogram Club will have a banquet in honor of senior members of the club. At this time sweaters will be presented to the Seniors and letters to other members who have earned them.

If a Junior comes rushing up to you in the hall you will expect to see a hand in front of you with a ring. The Seniors seemed pretty excited about getting their state tests back. They must have done "ok" because I see no change of faces here. Let us hope they did, anyway.

High School Chatter

CHATTER

Well, here we go again, with the rumors of A. H. S. Hope we aren't letting out any secrets! Are we?

Better late than never---but we just discovered that Shirley A. is sporting a diamond along with Jo Ann Gamble. How about it, Bill and Lewis?

You teachers get together and organize your understanding squad and basketball team for e depending on you.

We hear that Betty F. has joined the F. F. A. Maybe Billy J. can put more light on the subject.

There's an old saying, "The best man always wins!" It still holds true even in love.

Does anyone know where Batty Jane can find a frame 12 x 16 1-2? If so, please tell her.

How's the weather in Florida? Bill will tell us next week. Isn't he lucky?

Sam A.---I know a young lady whose eyes are set on you. But I don't tell secrets!

Just guess who we saw in Lynchburg Sunday night? None other but Virginia Herndon. Who was the handsome chap, Ginny?

We wonder how Mrs. Brown is progressing in flying? Maybe Miss Allen could tell us.

Listen, students, get busy and buy your tickets to the banquet. You can get them from any Monogram Club member. Also, don't forget the basketball games next week.

Next week.

WYTHEVILLE HAS FREE BABY SITTERS FOR POLIO VICTIMS

Wytheville, Va., Jan. 17.- "Baby sitting" has become a major project here---on a volunteer, free basis.

The reason is that the Wytheville area, which had more polio cases for its size than any other area in the nation last year, still has many convalescent cases.

Realizing the need, the Junior Women's Club of about 100 members, for its major project decided to "baby sit" at polio homes where parents had been so occupied caring for their convalescing children they couldn't get out. Here's how the club president, Miss Peggy Shores, explains it:

"We offered to go into the homes of polio convalescents in Wytheville to read to the children and keep them occupied so their mothers could go shopping, do housework they had had to neglect, or perhaps just rest and relax."

"The project has proved quite helpful to a number of families, and we hope to continue it as long as the need remains," Miss Shores said.

More than 30 members signed up as volunteer sitters. Bookings are handled through the busy local office of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

In Richmond, the project was commended by Mrs. Charles H. Wood, Jr., Junior Vice-President of the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs, as a "wonderful example of a club meeting a community need." She said that the Wytheville sitting plan suggested how other clubs could help in areas hard hit in the future by polio.

Concord R 2

Concord, Route 2.- Jan. 17.- This community was shocked last week by the sudden death of Mrs. Lee Bondurant Wheeler. She had been ill only a few weeks. She will be greatly missed by friends, relatives and in her church. She seldom missed a service at Hebron Church. The church was filled with a large concourse of friends at the funeral, and the flowers were numerous and beautiful.

Mrs. O. R. Turnes was rushed to the Baptist Hospital Sunday. We hope she will soon be back home. Mr. Turnes is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Willie Jobe, at Gladstone.

Mrs. T. M. Martin has been transferred from Stonewall school to Appomattox school, first grade Miss Thea Maxey, of Rustburg, is teaching at Stonewall. We wish her much success.

Misses Virginia Herndon and Anne Thomas are members of the cast of "Going Places," a show to be given by the Lions Club at Appomattox

FACTS ABOUT RED CROSS BLOOD PROGRAM

On July 20, 1950, the Secretary of Defense requested the American Red Cross to become the official procurement agency for blood and blood derivatives for the armed forces and assigned it responsibility for coordinating all private and institutional blood banks cooperating in the procurement of blood for the military forces.

The first call by the military establishment for blood for combat troops was made August 21. Within a week, the initial shipment was winging its way across the Pacific. Since then, shipments of whole blood have been flown regularly from the West Coast to receiving depots in Japan by military Air Transport Service (MATS). Distribution to changing combat areas has been made from there.

On August 30, 1950, the National Security Resources Board requested the American National Red Cross to accept the responsibility for planning, operating and coordinating a nationwide Blood Program. In cooperation with other blood procurement agencies, the Red Cross is charged with recruiting donors, collecting, processing, and preparing for shipment whole blood and blood derivatives as needed to meet civil defense requirements. Plans are being made to meet specific requests as they may arise.

Added to these military requirements is the day-by-day responsibility of supplying blood to more than 2100 hospitals in the communities served by the National Blood Program.

There are now in operation 36 regional blood centers and 51 mobile units under the national program. Six additional centers will be added to the network during the next few months.

Since the inauguration of the Red Cross National Blood Program in 1948, more than 1,000,000 pints of blood have been collected, tested as to medical safety, refrigerated and distributed to hospitals, physicians, and clinics. Blood collections at the regional centers are now being stepped up rapidly with additional increases planned as needed.

General George C. Marshall has emphasized that greatly increased donations will be necessary to maintain daily blood supplies for civilian use and to meet military and defense requirements. Blood in excess of that required in community programs and in combat areas will be utilized for stockpiling units of plasma and other derivatives. The participation of many Red Cross chapters not previously engaged in blood procurement will be needed for this vastly expanded program.

A Bloomfile Unit is to be in Appomattox during February.

Two-Day Dairy School Scheduled

A two-day Dairy School will be held in the auditorium of the Norfork and Western Station, Lynchburg, Tues. and Wednesday, February 6 and 7. The meeting is sponsored by the county agents of Amherst, Appomattox, Campbell and Bedford Counties and the Lynchburg Chamber of Commerce. The program each day will begin at 9:45 A. M. and ad ourn at 3:15 P. M. There will be four sessions, presided over by the four participating county agents. The program will include talks on feeding and milk production, milk marketing, producer-distributor relationships, pastures for dairy cattle, production of food crops, methods of curing hay, methods of housing dairy cattle, dairy equipment, artificial breeding, practical dairying and a panel discussion on dairy cattle diseases.

DANCE ANNOUNCED AT LEGION HALL

There will be square and round dance at the American Legion Hall here on Friday night, February 2, 9 t. 12. The public is invited to attend.

Funeral of Mrs. Woodson

Mrs. Nora Grace Woodson died January 8, 1951 at her home in Appomattox County. Her funeral was held at New Hope Baptist Church, and she was buried at the family cemetery. She leaves four daughters, Amanda and Janie Woodson; Mrs. J. N. Bagby and Mrs. R. G. Austin; three sons, W. A., T. E., and J. S. Woodson, and one brother, A. A. Austin.

Mrs. Woodson had been ill for the past six years. She was a devoted mother and always had the interest of her children at heart. Everyone who knew her will tell how devoted she was to her children and she really loved everybody in the neighborhood. The life she lived places before us the length and breath, the height and depth of the love of God. We can comfort ourselves by the knowledge she has passed from death unto life and that where she is there is no pain, no sorrow, no suffering, and she can sing the praises of God with the lived ones gone on before.

NEW SYSTEM OF ROAD CENTERPIECES

Virginia has adopted a new policy for painting highway centerlines. Henceforth, the painted section of a broken centerline will be 15 feet in length, with a 25-foot skip between painted sections.

Previously, a 60-foot section was painted with a 60-foot skip. In the passing areas, the skip was 30-feet in length.

The new type marking will apply to all roads.

J. L. Thomas, who supervises the centerline painting for the State Highway Department, said it will possibly take five years before all centerlines can be brought in line with the new policy.

To paint the new marking over the old would be unsightly and confusing, he explained. And it would hardly be in the interest of highway safety to let the old lines wear out completely before painting on the new.

Thus, it will be necessary to wait until a new surfacing or surface treatment is placed before the new lines are painted. Generally, a road must be resurfaced every five years.

Why the new type marking? Primarily for the benefit of the night driver, Thomas explained. In fog or misty weather, the motorist could lose the centerline when there is a 60-foot skip between markings. This will be unlikely with the new 25-foot skip.

Further, the new marking will be less costly. When all the roads have been brought in line with the new policy, about 12,000 gallons of paint will be saved annually.

LIONS CLUB

The Lions Club will meet tonight at 6:45 at Lee Restaurant.

HUB FEDERATION TO HEAR ABBITT

The annual father and son banquet of the Hub Federation of the Future Farmers of America will be held in the local school cafeteria on Friday night of this week. F. F. A. chapters from ten schools make up the Hub Federation.

U. S. Congressman Watkins M. Abbitt will be the banquet speaker.

CONSERVATION HANDBOOK ISSUED

The Appomattox County handbook for the 1951 Agricultural Conservation Program has been mailed to all Appomattox County farmers, it was announced this week.

The handbook lists the conservation practices which the Appomattox FMA County Committee has selected as the most needed and adaptable to local agriculture, C. C. Harvey, the committee chairman, said.

The chairman noted that the practices are similar to those approved under the 1950 program, and emphasize building soil reserves as a defense measure.

Approximately 60 per cent of the farmers in the county have already signed 1951 work sheets. Other farmers are urged to come to the FMA office, located across the street from the frozen food locker, and sign up before the closing date.

THE KICKOFF

NEWS OF A. H. S.

(By Barbara Ann Johnson)

How-ya' doing, everybody during this nice wintry week? It looks as though everyone survived, as I have not missed any of the happy folks you see at our school.

Well, has anybody noticed how clean our school has been looking? Since members of the SCA have been inspecting the rooms, halls and grounds, I would say our school looks fifty per cent better.

Also, at the Monday meeting of the SCA it was decided that they would sponsor the project of keeping the bulletin board neater. It was decided that Miss Allen's home room would have charge of the new project.

Wednesday was chapel day and the tenth grade presented the program at this time. The play was enjoyed by all. Also, the editor-in-chief and business manager of the annual gave a report on the financial standing of the annual.

The big Monogram Club banquet was held last night, so if you see about 14 new blue and white sweaters going around you will know the lucky people wearing them are the Senior members of the Monogram Club.

The basketball teams suffered a double loss to Altavista Tuesday night. The boys lost 53 -43 and the girls lost 21 - 20. The next game is tonight at Concord, with Pamplin.

Don't forget---the Lions Club is presenting "Going Places" tonight and Friday night in the auditorium. Buy your tickets now and "Go Places" with the characters in the show!

We appreciate Mr. Kerr's talk to the Seniors the other day, and we know all who heard it will profit by it.

Exams start Monday, so everybody buckle down and study hard. This will be the first time we have had two hour exams.

See ya' next week with a little more of the A. H. S. news of the times.

J. W. Cawthon To Be Judge In Town Cases

The Town of Appomattox has made a change in the set-up for trying town court cases. The Town has appointed J. W. Cawthorn, retired town manager, as its judge to try town cases and preside over the town court. A former mayor and town manager until his retirement two years ago, Mr. Cawthorn is well versed in town law and procedure. He will be paid a monthly compensation and the compensation will not be based on fees.

Hitherto town cases have been tried by the mayor, or in his absence, by a member of the town council.

OUTLOOK ON CORN, OATS, TOBACCO

Advancing corn and oat prices in the spring of 1951 are forecast by agricultural economists at VPI.

They say, however, that corn prices will depend on the condition of small grains and prospects for the new corn crop. Corn is being supported nationally at $1.47 per bushel in commercial areas.

Virginia, they say, needs a larger oat crop than the 5,200,000 bushels produced in 1950; and as oat acreage increased, barley production may do down.

Commenting on tobacco, the economists say the world supply of flue-cured was inadequate in 1950. Average prices were about 10 cents a pound higher than for the 1949 crop. As a result further expansion in world production is expected. Acreage allotments in the United States have been increased 9 per cent. If yields are average, some decline in prices may result.

Fire-cured allotments are expected to remain unchanged in 1951.

Burley is selling for slightly less than fire-cured; and acreage allotments have been increased 5 per cent for 1951.

Production of 3,600,000 pounds of Virginia sun-cured tobacco is in line with demand; and the crop is selling for 32 and 33 cents per pound. Allotments are expected to remain unchanged in 1951. Demand for chewing tobacco probably will increase because of "no smoking" regulations in an increasing number of plants producing goods for war purposes.

SECONDARY ROADS GOT ATTENTION IN '50

Widespread improvements were completed during the past year on Virginia's farm-to-market and school bus routes, State Highway Department figures indicated this week.

A summary of 1950 accomplishments on the 39,000 mile secondary highway system showed that:

825 miles of previously unpaved road were hard-surfaced.

1,750 miles were stabilized with heavy applications of crushed stone and gravel.

2,400 miles of paved roads were resurfaced with new blacktop.

246 obsolete bridges were replaced by modern structures.

600 bridges were strengthened or given major repairs.

Highway officials said the above figures are approximate, based on preliminary reports from resident engineers throughout the state. No exact figures are available, since the highway department's records are kept on the basis of a fiscal year which ends on June 30.

The 1950 secondary program was directed toward four chief objectives: (1) bringing as many miles as possible to standards adequate for all-weather travel; (2) extending hard-surfaced mileage as far as was economically feasible; (3) replacing obsolete bridges and strengthening others with major repairs and (4) resurfacing paved roads which had deteriorated under the wear and tear of traffic.

Objectives during 1951 will be similar, the department indicated.

The secondary highway system is composed mostly of farm-to-market, school bus, RFD and milk routes formerly maintained by the counties but taken over by the state under the Byrd Road Act of 1932. They are identified by route numbers of 600 or higher.

"GOING PLACES" PRESENTED TONIGHT AND FRIDAY NIGHT

"Going Places," the Lions Club home talent show, will be given tonight, Thursday, and tomorrow night, Friday, at the Appomattox High School auditorium, at 8:01 P. M.

One scene, which should be popular with audiences, is called "The Sultan's Sweeties." In it six men depict "appropriately," impersonate harem beauties. The six men are Ed Tegethoff, Vernon Bryant, Burke Guill, Bob Sears, Willie Buck Morris and Billy Burke.

A beautiful scene with a quiet mood is one called "Little Miss Up-to-Date." In this eight young women model "Paris" fashions. The eight models are: Kitty Burge, Peggy Cole, Ruby Moses, Ruth Webb Beulah Robertson, Wilma Allen, Gwendolyn Franklin and Ali.e Folks.

There are ten scenes in "Going Places." Tickets may be purchased at the door or from Lions Club members. In connection with the show, a "Tiny Tot" voting contest is being held, and will close at 3:00 P. M. Friday.

400 TURKEY POULTS LOST IN FIRE

Over 400 young turkey poults smothered early this morning when fire damaged a brooder house about three miles from here at Joe Ferrell's. The building was saved, but the turkey poults were not. The Appomattox volunteer fire company answered the alarm, at 5:50 A. M.

FIRST GIFTS BEING RUSHED TO POLIO FUND

Richmond, Va., Jan. 24.- Virginia's early contributions in the current March of Dimes are being sent to national headquarters in New York immediately to overcome a $5,000,000 deficit, it was disclosed today.

O. Lee Hodgkins, eastern Virginia director for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said national headquarters for the first time in its history, had sent an emergency request for funds from the campaign because treatment had been wiped out by three years of extremely heavy case loads.

"Virginians can appreciate the need," he said, "because the record number of 1197 cases in this state took all available funds from more than 70 per cent of our chapters and forced us to obtain over $161,000 more from national headquarters.

"The unprecedented request shows clearly how acute the need is this year for funds to pal for patient care, medical workers, and special equipment needed to fight polio," he said.

Normally half the money contributed during the March of Dimes is sent by the local chapters to national headquarters for research and other allocation at the end of the campaign. Half is retained by chapters for direct local use. With the request, half of funds on hand early are being sent to New York by local chapters and half retained.

Since 1944 the National Foundation has spent for medical care and education in Virginia 83.2 per cent of the $2,863,026.99 raised in the state, leaving 18.6 per cent for research, education and operation.

The campaign, which began January 15, is scheduled to end January 31.

SCHOOL CLUB TO CONDUCT SERVICE

The Senior Tri-Hi-Y of the Appomattox High School will conduct services in the Presbyterian Church at 7:45 P. M. on Sunday, January 28. The program will open with a welcome by the president, Sylvia Burks. The offering during the service will be for the Presbyterian Church. Talks will be given by various members of this club as follows:

The America of Yesterday, by Betty Burks:

The America of Today, by Shirley Austin.

The America of Tomorrow, by Laynell Irby.

A solo will be rendered by Miss Ann Waller, and a poem, Our Country, by Miss Shirley Walton. The club choir will sing.

A H S To Play Pamplin H S

The Appomattox High School boys and girls will play Pamplin High School at Concord at 7:30 P. M. Thursday night.

The A. H. S. boys and girls lost their games to Altavista Tuesday night at Concord. The girls lost by one point when the Altavista girls scored a 21 to 20 victory. Barbara Johnson scored 13 points, followed by Bettine Totty with 3, Virginia Chandler with 2, and Barbara Carter with 2.

The boys played one of their best games of the season, but lost 53 to 43. The local boys led most of the game, but when Leon Paulette and Red Thomas fouled out the Altavista team pulled ahead. Leon Paulette scored 11 points, Bill Jamerson 11, Ray Wingfield 10, Red Thomas 3, Jesse Harvey 3, and J. T. Guill 4.

Lack of practice has caught up with the girls team as well as the boys. The girls have practiced only one time in the last two weeks.

Coach Gordon Bragg remarked today: "I was very interested in what Coach Jimmie Flynn, of E. C. Glass High Schooool basketball team said after Tuesday night's game, in which he was one of the officials. He said, 'If your boys had a place to practice they could have one of the best teams in the District.' He also said that we lacked the knack of moving around on the floor fast enough to execute our plays work and our defense work, and the only way a boy or girl can get this practice is in a gymnasium and not on a clay or dirt court. He has coached basketball for a long time and has turned out many a winning team. So until we get a gym we will never have a winning team in boys basketball at Appomattox High School."

P.-T. A. MEETING

The Appomattox P.-T. A. met on Tuesday evening at the school. Discussion centered around the sale of candy and soft drinks at the school cafeteria, and a committee was appointed to make a further study of the matter.
